Celebrating Life

DECEMBER 9, 2023

DELTA MARRIOTT HOTEL
SOMERSET, NEW JERSEY

Welcome

THANK YOU FOR JOINING US

Thank you for joining us for our 3rd Annual GALA. It is an absolute pleasure to have you here, sharing in the warmth and joy of this remarkable event. Tonight, we come together not only to revel in the glitz and glamour but to pay tribute to the incredible resilience and strength embodied by our extraordinary Breast Cancer Survivors.

This GALA is more than just a glamorous affair; it is a manifestation of the values that define us at STYLETAINMENT. We are not merely a production company crafting extraordinary experiences; rather, it is an integral part of our identity. Our work is inspired by the unwavering determination never to give up, to triumph over adversity, and to celebrate life in all its forms

Honoring the lives of our remarkable ladies, our Breast Cancer Thriving Survivors, is a privilege that goes beyond the surface. It is an acknowledgment of their courage, their journeys, and the indomitable spirit that propels them forward. Recognizing their strength and resilience is not just an event; it is a reflection of our commitment to celebrating the human spirit.

At STYLETAINMENT, we believe in the power of honoring people while they are alive. It's about seizing the opportunity to express gratitude, admiration, and love in the present moment. Tonight, as we gather in this enchanting atmosphere, let us collectively appreciate the beauty of life and the strength within each of us.

STYLETAINMENT is more than an entertainment provider; it is a catalyst for inspiration. We hope that the stories shared and the moments celebrated tonight ignite a spark within each of you. Our aspiration is for you to leave this gala not only entertained but also inspired to take that leap, to overcome challenges, and to soar toward your dreams.

So, let this evening be a reminder that life is a grand stage, and each one of us has a unique part to play. May the spirit of celebration and resilience cultivated here tonight inspire you to embrace life with renewed vigor, to jump beyond your comfort zone, and to live your dreams now.

Once again, thank you for being a part of this extraordinary celebration. Here's to the indomitable spirit of our Breast Cancer Thriving Survivors and to a future filled with boundless possibilities.

Sincerely,

MISSOURI The Visionary

OUR MISSION

Creating extraordinary experiences to honor, celebrate and uplift women who have triumphed over breast cancer, while offering support to homeless women facing the same challenges.

Providing a feeling of love and gratitude as we work towards empowering our communities.

THE MEANING OF GALA

Gratitude (the quality of being thankful; readiness to show appreciation for and to return kindness)

Aspiration (a hope or ambition of achieving something)

Legacy (the long-lasting impact of particular events, actions, etc. that took place in the past, or of a person's life)

Awakening (an act or moment of becoming suddenly aware of something)

IN HONOR OF

Breast
CANCER

AWARENESS

FOR Life

TAKE CARE OF YOU.

DON'T DELAY YOUR MAMMOGRAM.

Did you know there are thousands of women who are currently being treated for breast cancer, but are homeless, stressed and struggling to meet their day-to-day living expenses and losing their lives?

What if there were "A Place Called LOVE" for homeless women going through breast cancer treatments to live, at no cost to them?

Would you support it?

Celebration Of Life Annual, Inc. is a 501 (c)(3) non-profit organization. A Place Called LOVE, (APCL), is our primary community project and our goals are to provide a beautiful home with an eco-friendly environment where homeless women going through breast cancer treatments can stay, be taken care of, nurtured, educated and prepared to return back to society self-reliant, sufficient and able to live a quality lifestyle.

APCL will offer support to enhance healing and give our ladies an opportunity to release stress in a serene environment with unconditional love, honor and respect!

"When I went to the last GALA, what touched and inspired me the most was to see a woman who was struggling all alone with cancer... God placed a family in her path to help and nourish her back to health ... Once she was healed, she didn't sit back, she grabbed the torch ... and began to bless other women. That is inspiring!"

- Avis Rosario Cabral
Supporter

And this is "A Place Called Love"

As women, it's ingrained in our nature to take action and uplift others after overcoming challenges. We genuinely believe that the women we assist at APCL will also feel compelled to pay it forward.

They will heal, overcome their struggles, enhance their lives, and discover ways to positively impact others.

Avis, your openness is a blessing, and we deeply appreciate you for sharing this with us.

“Bringing my mother’s vision and designs to life onstage is quite amazing. My favorite scene is All About Me and probably not for the reasons you are thinking. Yes, it is super fun to twirl and whip those capes around. Yes, I love the reaction we get from the crowd whenever, wherever we performed that scene. Yes, the colors are so vibrant it makes me smile every time I see them fly in the air. However, none of those reasons are why it is my favorite. It is my favorite because it has a significant meaning to my mom. You see, back in the ‘80s before The Show, before cancer, even before me, my mom traveled and made a living off of 7 CAPES, very similar to what you see today. She had the vision then but got sidetracked with life and kids. Sharing All About Me today just feels like we are picking up where she left off. It’s as if no time has passed and we don’t plan on stopping anytime soon!” - Says Head Choreographer, Kyra Shanae

Celebrating individuals while they are alive allows us to express our appreciation, gratitude, and love directly to them. It provides an opportunity to acknowledge their positive qualities, accomplishments, and the impact they've had on our lives.

Celebratory moments become cherished memories. By celebrating people while they are alive, we contribute to creating a reservoir of positive memories that can be a source of comfort and joy for both the individual and those who celebrate with them.

In essence, celebrating the lives of people while they are alive is a meaningful and affirming practice that contributes to the well-being of individuals and the communities they are a part of. It adds richness to life, enhances relationships, and creates a more positive and supportive social fabric.

Tania T.

TANIA T'S JOURNEY

Our Host for our 2023 GALA is Ms. Tania Ellerbe-Turner, better known as "Tania T." Tania returns tonight as one of our former honorees; at our first GALA in 2021 she was recognized as a 3-year Breast Cancer Survivor.

Tania is the mother of two thriving young adults (Faith, 23, and Chandler, 20). She is also a seasoned corporate professional, currently a Pharmaceutical Commercial Sales Director who is adept at building winning teams, creating safe environments for people to thrive, and producing optimal performance. She's a five-year Breast Cancer Survivor, Life Strategy and Empowerment Coach, and Cancer Advocate, who is dedicated to enhancing the PINK community's experiences.

Tania's cancer journey inspires holistic wellness and giving back. A lump led to Tania's bilateral mastectomy, revealing blessings after struggle. This is when she was introduced to Life Strategies coaching and through this she has learned humility, resilience, and courage. Now as a certified Life Strategist and Empowerment coach, Tania empowers women through MIND, BODY, and Soul alignment, fostering transformation. She assists her clients in realizing their worth and power.

Tania T. excels on stage, hosting diverse events from corporate conferences to fundraisers. Her connection with Cancer celebrants is unmatched, extending beyond the spotlight. Tania's advice is: Life is an Inside Job; alignment matters. Through her cancer journey, she's learned to embrace the present and trust the plan.

Her warmth and professionalism shine, making her a crowd favorite and a perfect fit for hosting our 2023 Diamonds and Pearls GALA.

Ada AWARD

1924 – 1982

Queen Ada Ann Watson-Hood, born on October 12, 1924, she emerged as the eldest among her siblings—two sisters and a brother. Transitioning from the South to the North during her early teens marked a significant chapter in her life.

Despite facing challenges, she bore a gentle yet determined spirit, possessing a remarkable ability to propel progress.

As an entrepreneur, she grasped the significance of nurturing INSPIRED DREAMS.

Missouri was born in Saint Michaels Hospital, Newark, New Jersey, on October 5, 1956 and is the third youngest of seven siblings, 1 sister and 5 brothers. God is the source of her life, her mother “Ada” is the force in her life and her children are the wind beneath her wings.

1965 a small beating heart became alive, a rebirth one would say, how fitting it would happen on Christmas day! – says the Story Teller.

It was 1965 when Missouri’s Mother, “Ada” gave her a Barbie Doll for Christmas. Using remnants from her mother’s sewing baskets, young Missouri designed and hand made her Barbie a complete wardrobe.

She proceeded to give her mother a cardboard runway fashion show on the dining room table, as she played gospel music in the background. “Mother loved gospel music.” – says Missouri

After the show she looked up at her mother and said, One day I am going to do a BIG Show.” Her mother patted her on the head and said, sure your will child...sure your will.

In that moment young Missouri could feel the electricity from her mother’s hand on her head and she knew one day she really would do the “BIG Show”...

Her mother INSPIRED and NURTURED THE DREAMER within her. Consequently, she evolved into a celebrated renowned fashion designer and visionary of STYLETAINMENT

In 2022, as a tribute to honor her mother, we launched the Ada Awards, recognizing an individual or couple whose impact on Missouri's life mirrors the uplifting influence of her mother.

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN, WE PRESENT TO YOU

RECIPIENT OF THE 2023

Ada AWARD

ORDINARY WORDS  EXTRAORDINARY ACTIONS  INSPIRED DREAMS

HATTIE SMITH'S JOURNEY

Hattie Smith is a two-time breast cancer thriver. Her connection to her community and faith has helped mold her into the inspiring individual she is today. So much so that she's created her own business, 'Hattie's Inspirational T-Shirts,' better known as HITS, to help spread breast cancer awareness and connect it to the Word of God.

Hattie is a New Jersey native, born to Doris and Charles Pendleton, and is the fifth youngest of seven siblings. She has been in Bucks County, PA for over thirty years with her husband, Gary, who she calls her ROCK. Hattie has been blessed with three beautiful daughters, Tanesia, Jasmin, and Camille.

Hattie's mantra is 'know your body,' when you feel like something is off, go to the doctor, if they say nothing's wrong; go get a second opinion. When Hattie was initially diagnosed with breast cancer 18 years ago, if she didn't get a second opinion, she would definitely have been enduring some sort of treatment that she didn't necessarily need.

Hattie had a new diagnosis seven years ago in January 2016 that was more aggressive than her first diagnosis. She is grateful to God for the wisdom that He gave her to do her research and understand what she was facing, and truly believes that He was with her every step of the way through the chemotherapy, radiation, and reconstruction surgery.

Hattie is phenomenal at fund raising and has joined the leadership team for A Place Called LOVE (APCL). She has assisted other non-profit organizations raise needed funds and we are grateful to have her join our team. Since retirement, Hattie considers herself an advisor and advocate for breast cancer awareness. Hattie has been featured in The National Digest, thenationaldigest.com, search her name to view the article.

DORINDA FRANCIS-MCKENZIE'S, JOURNEY

A survivor is someone who continues to function or prosper in spite of opposition, hardship, or setbacks according to the Random House Unabridged Dictionary. However, I don't consider myself to be a survivor because I endured a great ordeal. No, I am a survivor in spite of battling breast cancer while being a mother, wife, and full-time employee.

How could a 41 year old woman, who eats healthy and try's to exercise regularly be diagnosed with breast cancer?

It had to be a mistake. Well the answer is simple. Cancer, like all other conditions, knows no age, race, or gender. So on July 8, 2021, I had a decision to make. I could allow myself to be defined as a cancer patient or become a champion of hope for the next person. I chose the latter. Blessed with a supportive family, church-family, and friends, I did my homework. I asked questions and gave my battle to the only one who could see me through such a trying time. I stood on my faith in God as I disclosed the news to my daughters, family, and friends. Whether I was ready for it or not, cancer was here. It may have been in my body, but it didn't have my mind. It may have taken the doctors twice as long to perform my surgery and I may have had a few setbacks along the way, but I am here a year later.

SUSAN FIELDS, JOURNEY

Susan is a 20-year breast cancer survivor! She resides in Roselle, NJ with her loving husband, Charles Fields, and is the mother to her two children, Taylor and Darren, whom she adores. For the past 23 years, Susan has worked as a Human Resource Administrator at the non-profit organization, Partnerships for People, which help aid people with developmental disability.

In January 2002, Susan adamantly got her first mammogram at 40 years old. It was from the results of this life changing test that she learned she had breast cancer. She had no symptoms or lumps, but had she waited even two more months to test, she would not be with us today. Susan went to war and underwent an 8-hour surgery consisting of a full mastectomy followed by a trans flap reconstructive surgery. Eight Doctors in total performed the serious surgery. Twenty-nine lymph nodes were removed with 19 testing positive for cancer.

Susan was diagnosed with a Triple-negative Aggressive HER2 cancer which was Stage 2. Immediately post-surgery, she had to start invasive weekly chemotherapy followed by radiation and was put in a trial treatment for 6 months.

Mrs. Fields couldn't have gone through her breast cancer journey without the support of her village. This is one of the reasons why she helped co-found the fundraising troupe, Soul Surviving Sisters (SSS), which is a group of girlfriends who help raise donations for various breast cancer charities.

Fortunately, Susan is still in remission today. It's why she lives each day to the fullest and why she continues to give back to her breast cancer community wholeheartedly.

LINDA "FARAJAH" LEWIS, JOURNEY

My cancer journey began like so many others. I had no idea what was before me as I entered the doctor's office when given the diagnosis from my annual breast exam. Full of disbelief when receiving a positive result, I did not immediately venture toward surgery.

I sought various types of natural approaches before I submitted to my reality and confronted this dreadful monster which resulted in two major surgeries.

I was not like many strong women I've met who had no fear. I thought about my death, felt the loss and had days of sadness. As I traversed through my healing waters, my daughter noticed my melancholy mood one day while leaving for work and reminded me of a saying that we shared many moons ago. She cheerfully declared, "Mommy, See God Today", which immediately made me smile. I was reminded of the gift of who I am and although my body had been impacted, life, beauty and love are still here! I began to write, and my creativity was inspired. I decided to write a book for others who may have had a similar experience entitled, "SEE GOD TODAY, a Gratitude Journal for those Impacted by Cancer". Hopefully this creative journal will encourage others and bring joy, hope and healing upon their journey.

CHIMENE MANN'S JOURNEY

In 2009, I received a stage one cancer diagnosis, a pivotal year as my only son graduated from Penn State University. I discovered the lump in my left breast during a 2002 biopsy, and despite early signs noted in the pathology report, there was no consultation with the breast surgeon.

Instead, I was instructed to undergo annual mammograms. Seven years later, when the lump became bothersome, a new OB/GYN doctor ordered a breast ultrasound, confirming my breast cancer.

This marked a devastating period, eroding my trust in doctors who are meant to provide professional advice for prolonging our lives. The most challenging moment in my breast cancer journey was revealing my diagnosis to my son. His immediate reassurance, 'everything would be OK,' reflected his understanding of my strong faith in God. I draw strength from my belief in the healing power of the Lord Savior Jesus Christ, who sacrificed for our sins and healing. In 2009, I opted for a double mastectomy to avoid potential emotional pain in the future and sought complete healing and restoration from breast cancer.

I am grateful to Donna Obal, a saint who encouraged me to join the 'Beautiful You' support group. Her guidance has been invaluable, reminding me that I am beautiful both inside and out.

As a wife, caregiver, cherished mother, sister, daughter, and a survivor of 16 years, I truly embody what it means to place trust in God, fight for life, and love with unwavering dedication. It is a privilege to be honored.

DECMEBER 9, 2023

In a male dominated business, this eight-time Jean Dalrymple Award winner goes against the odds. Encouraged by the late great, Sydney Poitier, she rose to meet the challenges by using her personal experiences as a resource to develop the characters in her work.

She was raised in the Van Dyke Projects in Brownsville, Brooklyn. Anne was the first born of seven children who were raised on welfare and became the nurse to her mother who died of breast cancer at the age of 36.

Anne was 19 when her mother passed away. She will never forget her mother had just had her baby brother. She thinks she saw fear and told her it was just a blocked milk duct. She did not look worried so neither was Anne. Weeks passed and she finally went to Kings County Hospital because her home remedies were not working. In those days, her family never said the word "cancer" out loud, it was always whispered. It was as if the dying person had done something to make the family look bad. Her mom's sister wished that her mother had had a heart attack.

From that day on, Anne started running because her doctor told her she was at high risk when she was given her family's medical history. She started writing in earnest because that dreaded disease was always in her thoughts. Today it's not the death sentence it used to be, we are living longer and the whispering has stopped.

When cancer finally caught up with her, her mammogram saved her life. She was put on chemotherapy and had a lumpectomy, and today she is cancer FREE. Anne had finally stopped running. After nursing she returned to her first love with the help of Artistic Director, James Jennings, at the American Theater of Actors.

She is the first and only black female recipient of eight Jean Dalrymple Awards in New York City. In 1996-7 BEST dramatic Playwright, BEST COMEDY in 2004 and BEST Play from Another Medium and her breakout work, John Milton's classic poem Paradise Lost, adapted to A Fall from Grace, along with a 1997 AUDELCO nomination. In 2007, Anne received the 10th Anniversary Script Writer Award, from the African American Women in Cinema for The Colored Garden. Looking For Love in Darkness was her first stage play about a family coping with teenage AIDS, ran fourteen weeks at the ATA in NYC.

"A Lesson in Blood" garnered a Jean Dalrymple Award for Best Playwright and "Broken Pieces". In 2022, Anne wrote, Resurrection, based on the true story of Black Wall Street of the dead coming to life. DONNA BROWN'S, JOURNEY

As a 13-year cancer survivor, I have experienced a multitude of emotions that has shaped my perspective on survivorship. Being a survivor suggests that I have been perseverant, tenacious, and strong in my journey to beat cancer not once, but twice.

Growing up in a loving household in Newark, there was never any mention about cancer and none of my immediate family had a cancer diagnosis. While watching Oprah, she showed the process of breast self-examination and its importance After checking myself, I discovered I had a lump, and that is when my life changed.

When I was diagnosed with breast cancer in March 2011, I was devastated. While I considered myself to be a strong woman, hearing the word "cancel was very sobering. How \Mill this affect my family, my job, my sense of self. After addressing my breast cancer, I was diagnosed with ovarian cancer in October 2015.

I have been an employee at Cooperman Barnabas Medical Center almost 20 years, currently working in the Radiation Oncology. I have seen patient tears and comforted so many people by sharing my personal story; being an inspiration to others has allowed my personal challenges with cancer to be a blessing to others. It's inspiring being a survivor, giving that glimmer of hope to patients who are going through treatment.

Through this journey in my life, I am deeply humbled and forever grateful for all the love and support given to me by my family, friends, and coworkers.

THE
Maria Althouse

Marie Althouse has a deep gratitude to the Lord, the medical community, unwavering support groups, cherished friends, and loving family, I stand here today as a resilient survivor of Breast Cancer for 17 years. My journey, however, extends far beyond the realm of personal triumph.

Over the course of my 31-year career as an educator, the relationships I've nurtured within the community have served as pillars of emotional and physical support during times of need. It fills me with immense pride to be not only connected to but also an ardent supporter of STYLETAINMENT, an organization that embodies the power of unity, creativity, and resilience.

For me, the significance of giving back after surviving cannot be overstated. It is an integral part of our journey, a testament to the strength that emerges from adversity, and a reminder that our experiences can be a source of inspiration and support for others on their own paths.

THE
Audrey Walker

Audrey Walker majored in Business Administration and is presently employed at Trenton Housing Authority where she was certified in Public Housing Management and Occupancy. She began her career at Trenton Housing Authority as a Tenant Interviewer and has risen to Director of Housing Operations. Audrey takes pride in knowing that while employed with Trenton Housing Authority, she has changed the trajectory of many residents' lives through advocacy, instruction, education, and example.

In 2004, Walker was diagnosed with breast cancer. After surviving a tumultuous 3-year battle with Breast Cancer, in year 2007, she became the Co- Founder and Director of the Healing Stream Breast Cancer Awareness Organization (HSBCA).

Since the inception of this organization, Walker along with twelve (12) other women has supported, educated, and counseled numerous women diagnosed with breast cancer. They, impart hope and strength while supporting these woman & their families with daily living intimate needs.

Healing Stream Breast Cancer Awareness also award $1000 scholarships annually to three (3) deserving college students whose immediate family member is walking through their cancer journey, and for the past thirteen (13) years; have hosted and organized one of the largest annual Breast Cancer Awareness 5k Walk/Run's in the County of Mercer located in New Jersey.

Audrey Walker is a blessed woman of God, a devoted wife and mother of five children and ten (10) grandchildren.

Proverbs 2:6 is one of her favorite bible verses.

THE
Imani Williams

MY NAME IS IMANI TAHIRA, I AM THE PRODUCTION MANAGER AND CAST MEMBER FOR STYLETAINMENT. Our show is a visual manifestation of someone choosing to fight for life and pursue their true calling. The narrative is truly inspiring as it unfolds on stage.

It's a captivating and exhilarating survivor's story, keeping the audience's attention from start to finish. Each scene is unpredictable, providing a real-time sense of Missouri's journey from her perspective.

Personally, my favorite scene is "Wild Orchid" because it's mysterious, vibrant, and full of surprises. It feels like a declaration of self-confidence, a moment of blossoming that the world can't ignore.

Additionally, I am an active member of a dynamic community of real estate brokers and agents, driven by knowledge and founded on collaboration

Imani Williams

MY NAME IS DEVONNE JONES I AM THE HEAD DANCE CHOREOGRAPHER AND CAST MEMBER FOR STYLETAINMENT. What moves me about STYLETAINMENT is that it is a company that knows the potential it has and where that potential could lead to. It moves me because I can see it for myself in the way we work.

Not only that, but the greater focus is also to be a blessing to women who are homeless and living with and recovering from cancer. A lot of passion goes into every single detail to make the company what it is. I am so supportive because I believe my purpose and the purpose of STYLETAINMENT are in alignment. STYLETAINMENT The Show, A Cancer Survivor's Story is a "layered" production that does not really fit into a single category. It is a combination of theater, dance, music, poetry, and fashion with each element no more important than the other.

Additionally, she serves as the Dance Leader for the Liturgical dance ministry at Shiloh Baptist Church. In the corporate realm, she holds the position of an Account Manager at a prestigious company. Her strong belief is that with God, nothing is impossible.

PRESENTER

As it turns out her dog helped discover the lump in her Breast & she's been "Thriving & Surviving" ever since. Veronica is a strong advocate for the Breast Cancer community through her organization Veronica's Faith Warriors. Veronica's fight is not just for her, it is for every Victim, Survivor & Care Giver. She encourages women/men everywhere to not keep it to themselves. Cancer is not a Secret and you are not alone. As of 2022 CEO/Founder of Vee Faith Warriors Corp.

THE

Chrystal Shakir

Chrystal Shakir resides in Mount Holly with her husband and two children. She worked for several Pharmaceutical Companies for over fifteen years supporting Marketing, Human Resources and Engineering Organizations with World Leaders in Health Care: Johnson & Johnson, Aventis, and Pharmacia. Office Manager and Project/Program Coordinator with an excellent rapport with vendors and colleagues. Chrystal also received monetary recognition awards for the Shared Accountability and Transparency that Drive Business Results, Coaching and Skills Development, Participative Management

In 2005, Chrystal made the decision to leave the corporate environment and became an entrepreneur which consisted of a Loan Originator, refinancing or purchasing homes, consolidate debt, home equity lines of credit, and commercial loans and property investments. She is currently involved in several successful network marketing businesses. She enjoys meeting power driven people and helping others get to financial freedom.

Chrystal is a two- time cancer survivor. She was first diagnosed with a rare sarcoma bone cancer when she was a teenager. After many years in remission, Chrystal was diagnosed with triple negative carcinoma breast cancer which was discovered 2 months after giving birth to her son in 2011. She has been cancer free for 11 years.

In 2012, Chrystal joined the Healing Stream Breast Cancer Awareness Organization which supports not only women with breast cancer, but anyone battling cancer. The focus and mission is to provide intimate care and support to meet those essential needs of families walking through their journey with cancer. Just to name a few: such as buying groceries, hiring cleaning service, providing transportation to go to the hospital, and “A Day of Beauty” taking women out to be pampered with a spa day and lunch. Through this organization and her personal experiences, she encourages and supports others affected by cancer or any other ailments that people may be suffering from sharing her positivity and holistic journey. Chrystal attributes her healing to God’s grace which made it all possible.

Tracey Pitt Gifford

Mrs. Tracey Pitt Gifford is a notable figure in the realm of both the arts and aerospace education. She serves as the dedicated Producer of the Newark International Film Festival, a renowned event that celebrates and showcases the world of cinema in the vibrant city of Newark. THE SHEILA JOHNSON STORY

Congratulations to our 2022 Breast Cancer Survivor Honoree

Sheila's commitment to raising awareness surrounding breast cancer is further cemented in her role as Board Member for Breast Cancer Recovery, and her role as facilitator for Infinite Boundary Retreats. Sheila is now a published author of "A Survivor's Lens", A Metastatic Breast Cancer Survivor's Focus on Gods Word and Faith. She also has a movie on BET+ about her 13 year journey with metastatic breast cancer called God's Grace, The Sheila Johnson Story.

Sheila's resiliency and energy are contagious, and she delivers excellence in all aspects of her life, personal and professional.

THE
PRESENTER

Sheila Marie Johnson

Sheila Marie Johnson
Resilience and Representation

When it comes to health equity and breaking down systemic barriers to care in the metastatic breast cancer community, Sheila Johnson is an inspiration to us all. Not only has Sheila been living with metastatic breast cancer for 13 years, she is also a 25-year United States Air Force military veteran. Sheila has received 4 Air Force Meritorious Service medals, 7 Air Force Commendation Medals, and 4 Air Force Achievement Medals. These honors are a testament to her strength, commitment, and dedication to amplifying the presence and voices of black women. Sheila has demonstrated long-standing commitment to widening the discussion relating to racial disparities and health inequalities that exists for African Americans within the breast cancer community.

She is a mentor and guide for many black women, keen to break down barriers and create facilitators to care. Sheila provides exceptional levels of care and support for others from the African American and wider community who find themselves diagnosed with breast cancer.

Sheila works closely with the black community to ensure we have representation and are included in conversations relating to their diagnosis and treatment. Sheila has been a regular contributor to the discussions relating to breast cancer care and how to ensure competent and holistic care for those from underrepresented communities. An example of a project where Sheila led the focus on advocating for black women is the Metastatic Breast Cancer and the Count Me In Project. The project is an innovative patient-partnered cancer research project that aims to propel cancer research progress. Sheila's commitment to raising awareness surrounding breast cancer is further cemented in her role as Board Member for Breast Cancer Recovery, and her role as facilitator for Infinite Boundary Retreats. Sheila is now a published author of "A Survivor's Lens", A Metastatic Breast Cancer Survivor's Focus on Gods Word and Faith. She also has a movie on BET+ about her 13 year journey with metastatic breast cancer called God's Grace, The Sheila Johnson Story.

"Writing My Journey to STYLE TAINMENT, A Life Stitched Together has been a healing for me in many ways. What I now see is the "ONE" was an instrument, to assist in writing the music to my songs, the words to my stories, the scripts to my plays, and the inspiration, drive and determination to move my life forward. The "ONE" was chosen to point me in the direction of my soul's journey.

The fire still burns but it's a different kind of fire. The LOVE still lives inside of me, but my eyes are wide open and everything is crystal clear. When I look out that window I see a beautiful unscarred soul looking back; when I look out that window I see a woman standing in happiness and joy; when I look out that window I see the spirits of my Mother, my Grandma Jane, Mr. Shorty and my Godmother looking back smiling and saying, "All is well, you did good ...you're doing good, girl!" And that's ohhh such sweet music to my soul".

My hope is that the first and second editions of my books ignite the dreamer within you and elevate you to new heights, just as they did for me. Remember, this is your life, and regardless of who comes, stays, or leaves, never give up on yourself.
